Reports and Discussion:

Discussion of Ethics Module – Janet Hammer
Janet relayed information from TLAC instructors regarding procedural and validity issues with the module. It was decided that Beverly’s GA, Billy, will perform an item analysis, add feedback for incorrect answers so students have information on what to study, and allow instructors to reset the exam for 3 additional attempts. Janet Hammer also asked for the production of a video to help with issues around the ethics module. Jenn Whitfield will meet with Ashely Jolly (TLAC instructor) to identify the best content of the video. Discussion also centered around having (1) instructors incorporate some of the ethics module questions in class, especially those questions that are missed most by students, (2) making sure the instructors do the ethics module themselves, (3) putting more ownership on the students taking the exam.

Certification Updates – Misti Corn
Misti updated the group on recent TEA meetings attended by the Dean. Items related to the meetings, such as TEA’s new review policy, language suggestions for Texas Administrative Code, principal and candidate exit surveys were shared. Misti will send the group a copy of both the principal and candidate exit survey, as these are now part of the accreditation process for all programs. It was suggested by the Dean that we show our support of proposed language regarding the requirements of field supervisors. This statement will be emailed to the group, to post to the SBEC public comments section of the TEA website.

Approval of graduation without certification form – Misti Corn
Misti presented a draft document to the group for approval. The form will be signed by students who decide to graduate without completing certification. This form would be used by all programs. Once signatures are obtained, programs should send to Misti so withdrawals can be processed from certification exams, etc. with TEA. The form was approved by the group. A copy will be emailed to the Partnerships – Valerie Hill-Jackson
Valerie was introduced by Beverly as the new Director of Educator Preparation. Valerie explained her duties as those of “being the link” between faculty and CEPP as well as the link to any community partnerships. She will be a clearing house for partnerships with ISDs, working to promote such partnerships as well as establishing and funding new partnerships.

Discussion on sharing of benchmarks and competencies – Tabled by Jenn Whitfield, until the next meeting.

Mental Health Training – Misti Corn
The attempt to have our current mental health modules approved for use by TEA were declined, due to the need for evidence based research. Therefore, the Dean would like for us to provide the all-inclusive, 8-hour, face-to-face training to all students. Misti will be trained to offer the training. Programs were encouraged to find an 8-hour time for Misti to spend with each group before the end of the spring semester. This training will cover the state requirements for mental health, suicide prevention, and substance abuse.

TEA Data Group – Glenda Bryns
Glenda has been selected to serve on a TEA committee discussing the data collected by TEA, the format of which it is collected, and the dissemination of such data. She reported on the group’s suggestions to TEA, noting these were suggestions only, but TEA was receptive of the ideas. Some included disaggregation of data for better EPP research, timing of data collection, alignment of principal and candidate surveys to teacher standards, efficiency and ability of TEA systems to handle the data reporting, and why some data was being reported. The group will meet again in late summer.

There were no program updates or announcements.

The meeting was adjourned.

The next meeting will be February 22, 2018 at 10:30am.

Updates have been made.

Certification Updates – Misti Corn
Misti Corn reported that the Title II Report is being compiled. Programs may be asked to provide information as needed to complete the report. Misti shared Title II Pass rates which will be included in the report. She also reported that information regarding a new TEA requirement regarding digital literacy will be forthcoming.

Discussion on sharing of benchmarks and competencies – Jenn Whitfield, Beverly Irby
Jenn Whitfield explained the desire of the Dean and as part of the mission of CEPP, that as a group we would like to learn more about each program’s benchmarks. Based on the benchmarks outlined in the Raise Your Hand Texas program, each certification program will present to the group their program stages/benchmarks, assessments, and individualization of instruction for students. Programs will present their top 3 “things we do well” and 3 “we could do better” areas based on the Raise Your Hand standards.

As recipients of the Raise Your Hand Texas scholarship program, the Special Education program will be the first presenter at the March meeting. A sign-up sheet will be sent by Jenn for other programs to select a month to present.

Valerie Hill-Jackson would like to sit-along with each program during the planning of their presentation.

Melissa Fogerty explained for the HEB Raise Your Hand scholarships, there were 40 applicants. Eighteen will take part in an extensive interview process on April 2nd.
Additional Items:

Beverly Irby informed the group that we would not be participating in the one-day 8-hour mental health training. As an alternative, all students will participate in 3 separate online trainings, approved by TEA. The list of approved programs and instructions will be sent to all by Misti.

Beverly also explained the President’s X Grant and proposed finding a group willing to submit proposals.

The meeting was adjourned.

The next meeting will be March 22, 2018 at 10:30am.

The current module requires a 100% pass rate, while the PACT module requires a 70% pass rate. The PACT module was developed by Dr. Glenda Byrns et al., is free to TAMU students, students cannot click through to the end of the module, and it is TEA approved (students print a certificate at the end).

- PACT is supported by the System (on Tarleton servers), but soon will be turned back over to Tarleton.
- CEPP members were asked to review the subcommittee’s finding and send any questions about PACT to Dr. Valerie Hill-Jackson who will seek a response from System admins.

Reports and Discussion:

Zero Credit Course for Required TEA trainings – Valerie Hill-Jackson

Offer a course for all educator preparation program students the semester of admission. The course would be in an eCampus format and cover all required TEA trainings. This would reduce the work on faculty as well as provide a central repository for all data. Chris Cherry has had the initial approval from the registrar’s office, but will seek additional requirements.

Discussions included concerns about repeating or replacing information taught within courses. It was explained this would be a simple preview of the topics, and a deep-dive on topics would occur within classes. A vote will take place at the next meeting.

Upcoming Meetings: Valerie Hill-Jackson

Valerie provided information on an edTPA training for November, as well as announcing that TEA would join us via web conferencing during the next CEPP meeting, December 13.

Reports and Discussion:

Zero Credit Course for Required TEA trainings – Chris Cherry
This process is moving forward, but not yet complete. It will be used by all programs. Discussions centered on autonomy of programs, duplicating lessons, information offered too soon, and demand on a student’s time in addition to other courses.

While all concerns were recognized, and there is room for some discussion on delivery, the course will be implemented as soon as possible.

Ethics Module – Valerie Hill-Jackson
It was decided that programs can use the platform of their choice until the zero credit course is implemented. Each program selected the platform of choice (HLKN will use TAMU platform, all others will use PACT). Access will be provided to each student near the beginning of each semester.

edTPA Presentation – Valerie Hill-Jackson
Grace Wu from TEA and Kelly Crawford from Pearson joined our meeting via web-interaction. During the presentation our membership presented questions to the presenters and received feedback.
